

Week Nine

Ethics and Social Responsibility

Sustainable Marketing Social Responsibility and Ethics

Topic Outline

- Sustainable Marketing
- Understand the concepts of ethics and social responsibility in marketing
- Understand marketers legal obligations in
- Understand social marketing and NFP marketing

Definition of Ethics

- Ethics refers to the set of rules or standards, based in moral principles or values that an individual or group uses to govern their own behaviour and to judge between right and wrong, or "good" or "bad" conduct / behaviour.

Corporate Social Responsibility

- The concept of corporate social responsibility is simply that businesses have an obligation to act in the interests of the societies that sustain them. This is an overarching responsibility that affects all aspects of a business's operations and involves all of its stakeholders

Corporate Social Responsibility

- owners: the business must generate long-term wealth by acting profitably and sustainably
- employees: businesses and not-for-profit organisations provide jobs that ensure wealth is shared among members of society, and provide employees with reasonable working conditions
- customers (and clients): the business must attract and retain customers by offering products of value
- partners: the business must act in such a way towards its partners that those partners can achieve their own business aims and meet their own corporate social responsibilities
- government: the business must abide by laws and regulations. At the heart of corporate social responsibility is a business's obligation to act ethically, lawfully and in the best interests of all of its stakeholders, including the society — increasingly the global society — in which it operates.

Tutorial A

Activity

Focus Questions

Background: This activity aims to reinforce the importance of social responsibility in marketing and to consider how it may be used in developing an IMC strategy plan.

Task: Collectively, answer the below question;

1. Define Corporate Social Responsibility.
2. What are the categories you could use to help evaluate your socially responsible efforts/strategies? (Tip: refer to the video from concept page - Ethics & Social Responsibility)

Duration: 20 minutes

Resources: E-device to access your Canvas course and take notes! ✓

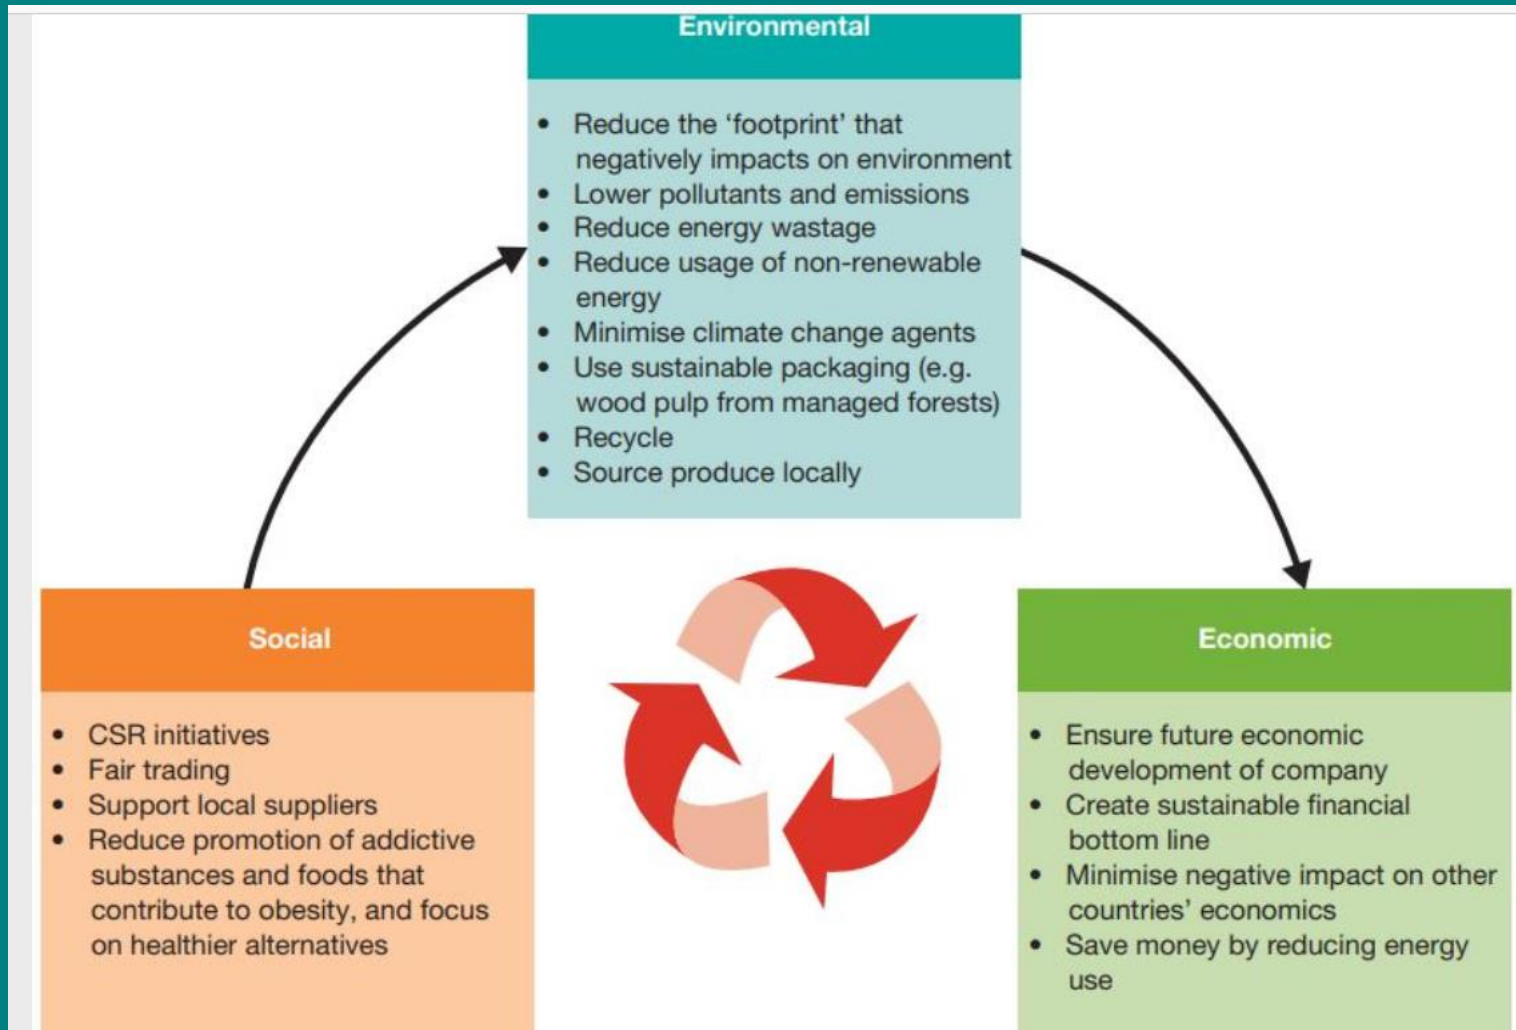

Sustainability

- The concept of sustainable marketing refers to the marketing profession's obligation to change marketing processes in which the exploitation of resources, the direction of investments, the orientation of technological development and institutional change are made consistent with future as well as present needs. In practice, sustainable marketing is simply about looking at your products and/or services, assessing how your products and/or services impact the environment, and then taking steps to minimise those impacts.

Sustainable Marketing

Meeting needs of consumers while preserving the ability of future generations to meet their needs

Needs of Consumers	Now	Future
	Now	Future
Needs of Business	Marketing concept	Strategic planning concept
	Societal marketing concept	Sustainable marketing concept

Sustainability Checklist

Product	Reduce	Reuse	Recycle
What is it made from?
Who makes it?
How is it packaged?
Is the packaging reusable?
What is the lifespan?
Can the product be disposed of?
Place	Reduce	Reuse	Recycle
Where is it made?
How is it transported?
Is the transportation as efficient as possible?
Is packaging used for transportation reusable or recyclable?
Where/how is the product sold to the consumer?
How does the product finally reach the consumer?

Price

Reduce

Reuse

Recycle

Does the price include a warranty for repair or replacement?

Does pricing reflect the sustainability values of the organisation?

Are pricing incentives being used to stimulate over consumption?

Promotion

Reduce

Reuse

Recycle

What resources are being used to communicate?

Are the products accurately and honestly communicated?

Business Partners

Reduce

Reuse

Recycle

Business partners should also be audited using the questions above. Business partners that are aligned to your sustainability goals help you to better reach your goals.

What is Greenwashing

- Greenwashing is used to describe the practice of companies launching adverts, campaigns, products etc. under the pretence that they are environmentally beneficial, often in contradiction to their environmental and sustainability record in general.

Is Greenwashing Regulated?

- In Australia, there are no specific laws prohibiting greenwashing.
e.g., Australian consumer law
- Globally, regulators are taking steps to stamp out greenwashing and provide clearer guidance on which financial products can be labelled 'green' and 'sustainable'.
e.g., Green claims code

Legal obligations when marketing

- When marketing your business, products or services, it is important to be aware and knowledgeable of any regulations or legal requirements, including the ones listed below.
- Misleading and deceptive conduct
- Component pricing
- Bait pricing
- Bill posting
- Brochures
- Music
- Pricing regulations
- Signage
- Spam
- Spruiking

Legal obligations when marketing

- Advertising your business
- Running competitions, lotteries or promotions
- Direct marketing
- Telemarketing
- Privacy
- Using intellectual property
- Trade mark laws
- International regulations

Social and Not-For-Profit Marketing

- Question 1: Define social marketing in your own words.
- Question 2: Find a current example of social marketing in action. Prepare to share your finding with your peers.
- Read the article

Tutorial B

Activity

Focus Question - Social Marketing

Background: In this activity you will demonstrate what social marketing means by defining and considering a relevant and current example to illustrate.

Task:

Question 1: Define social marketing using your own words.

Question 2: Find a current example of a company engaging in social marketing (Global or local). Prepare to share your finding with your peers.

Reflective question for critical thinking: How could you fit social marketing into your IMC strategy plan? (Perhaps you may have already unknowingly done so already, if so, point out its relevance)

>> Share your ideas with your class tutor and peers to elevate your learning experience

Duration: 20 minutes

Business Actions Toward Sustainable Marketing

Sustainable Marketing Principles

Consumer-
Oriented
Marketing

Customer-
Value
Marketing

Innovative Marketing

Sense-of-mission
Marketing

Societal
Marketing

Business Actions Toward Sustainable Marketing

Consumer-Oriented Marketing

- View marketing activities from the consumer's point of view
- Deliver superior value

Business Actions Toward Sustainable Marketing

Customer-Value Marketing

- Invest in customer-value building marketing
- Create value FOR customers

Business Actions Toward Sustainable Marketing

Innovative Marketing

- Company seeks real product and marketing improvements

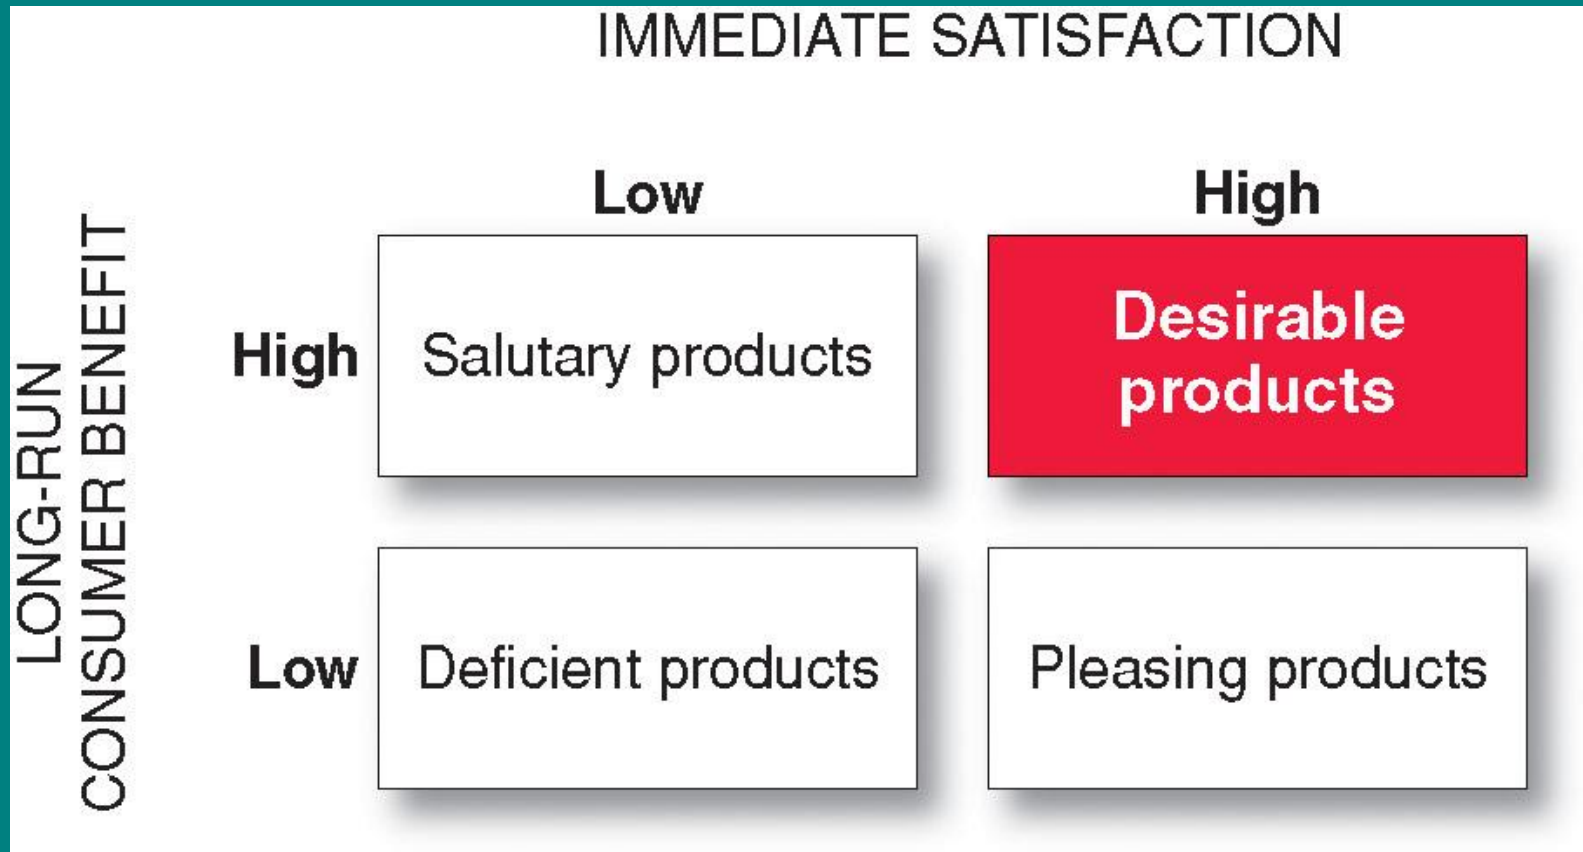

Business Actions Toward Sustainable Marketing

Sense-of-Mission Marketing

- Define mission in broad social terms rather than narrow product terms

Business Actions Toward Sustainable Marketing

Societal Marketing

Business Actions Toward Socially Responsible Marketing

Marketing Ethics

Corporate marketing ethics are broad guidelines that everyone in the organization must follow that cover distributor relations, advertising standards, customer service, pricing, product development, and general ethical standards

Business Actions Toward Socially Responsible Marketing

Marketing Ethics

- Who should guide companies?
- The free market and the legal system?
- Individual companies and managers?

Business Actions Toward Socially Responsible Marketing

The Sustainable Company

- Goes beyond caring for the needs of today's customers and has concern for tomorrow's customers and the broader world

Tutorial B

Activity

Designing your advertisement

Background: This activity aims to introduce some technical skills required to create and develop a successful digital advertisement submission.

Task: Together, we will explore a simple and common design tool, Canva. We will navigate through its basic functions and features and create a sample digital advertisement.

By the end of this activity, you will learn how to;

- use Canva images and embed them into a blank Canvas
- use Text features
- change text and image colors
- search for images in Canva
- search for relevant images online and upload into Canva
- place images and manipulate size
- save your advertisement in compatible formats
- create a static digital advertisement in Poster form

Activity

Working on your assignment

Background: This activity provides you with an opportunity to show your tutor progress on your assignment 3 work and receive immediate and constructive feedback.

Task:

1. Show any draft / progress work to your class tutor to receive constructive feedback.
2. Ask any relevant questions relating to the development, completion, or submission of your assignment 3.

Duration: 30 minutes

Resources: E-device to access your Canvas course and take notes! 